Adult Studies:

“Lyrical Lines Stirring the Soul”

Sunday Evenings at 5:30 in the Adult Education Building

In the context of the waning of winter, the arrival of spring, and the anticipation of that most Holy time of Lent and Easter, we look to poetry that stirs both our senses and our soul. The weekly exploration of the selected poems will be interactive since we readers must engage to experience.

Led by Faye Barham, Jeanne Wells Cook and Paul Smith

February 10: Praise and Gratitude

Selected poems focus on daily praise and gratitude for all of creation and for the blessings we enjoy as part of that creation.

February 17: Literary Sharing

As part of the engaging and interactive nature of this study, participants are invited to share poems or prose that stir their souls, or write new pieces to share with the group.

February 24: Lenten Topics

Selected poems deal with confession, prayer, and the journey toward the Crucifixion.

March 3: The Journey to Easter

In response to the coming of Easter, selected poems confess the humility, mystery, or wonder of our Easter experience.
